THE CLANDESTINE COAST

Sonoma County and Napa Valley may be household names when it comes to fine wine, but California's Central Coast has been crafting great wines in the shadows of its neighbours for decades. Let us introduce you to California's dazzling hidden gems.

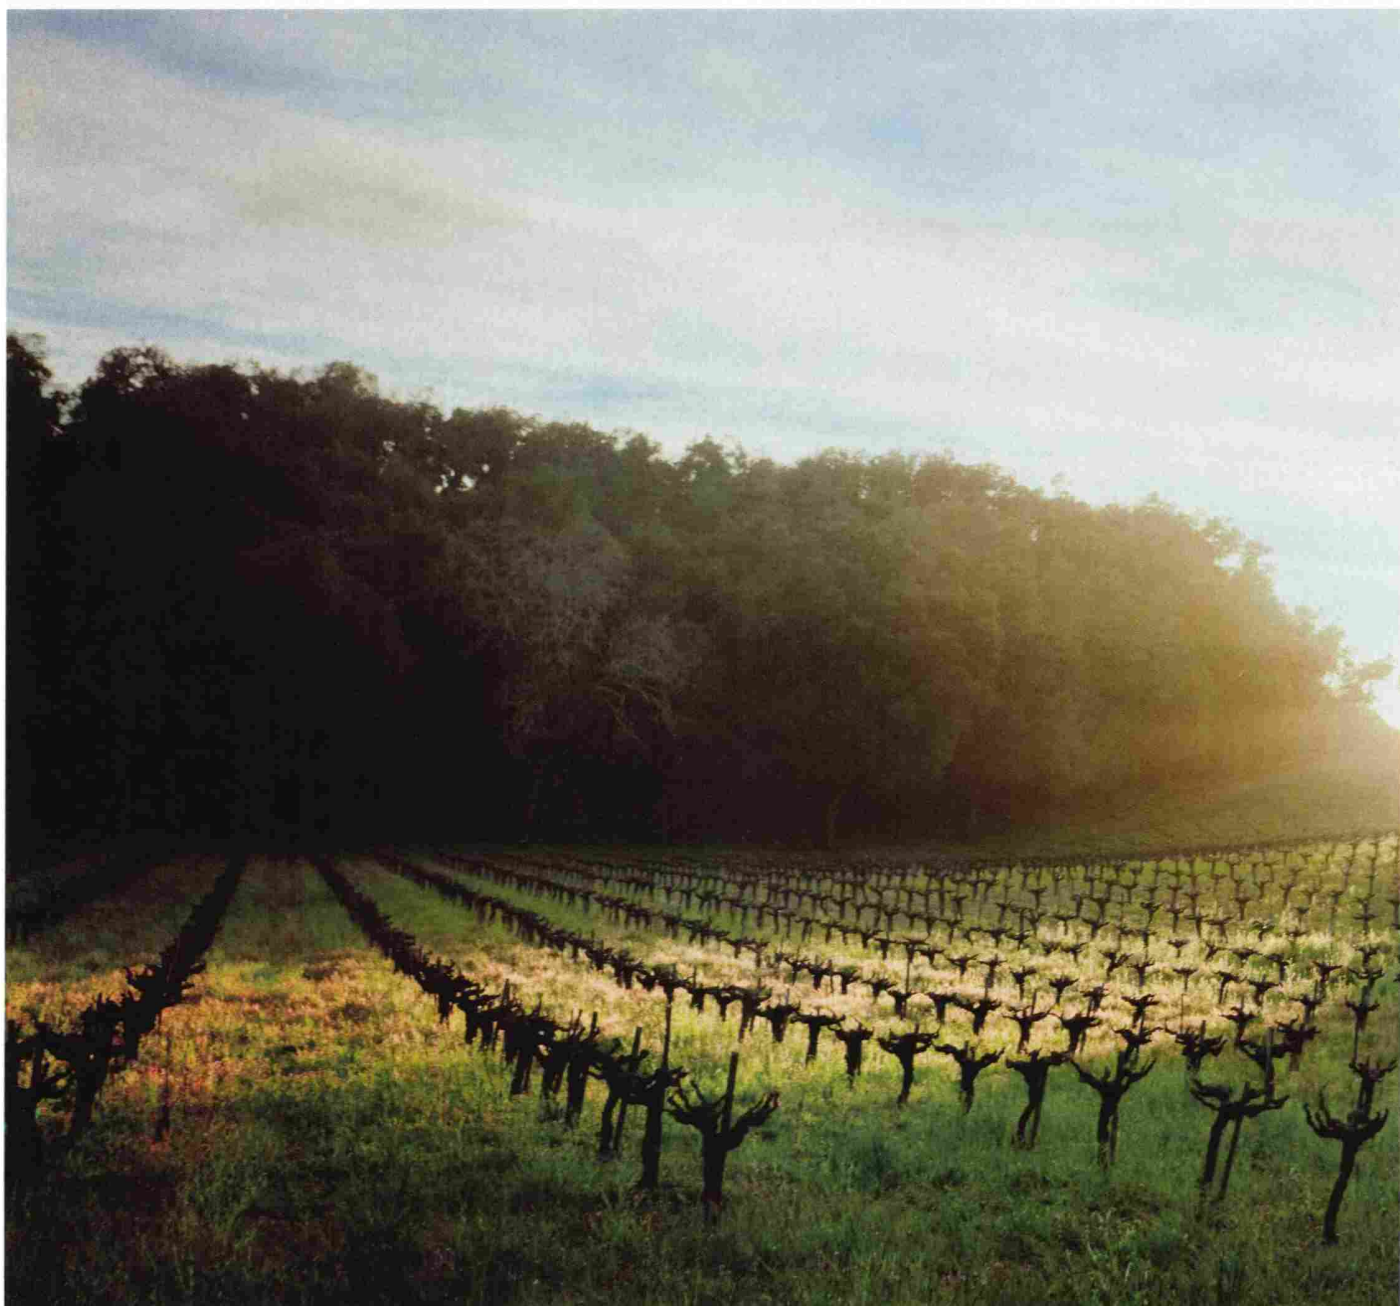

Working the vineyards
in the Santa Ynez Valley,
Santa Barbara County.

CENTRAL COAST

It should come as no surprise that a region known as “California’s fruit basket” produces some agricultural marvels.

THE REGIONS OF THE CENTRAL COAST

The Central Coast comprises many different regions, most notably Monterey County, Santa Lucia Highlands, Santa Barbara County, San Luis Obispo and Paso Robles. What makes regions here so special is the soil and the mountains. Most of the mountain ranges of the Central Coast run east-west and not north-south, meaning these areas are completely exposed to the cooling Pacific breeze.

Toss in heavy nighttime fog, extended daily sunshine, and a dash of clay-rich soil, and you have the perfect recipe for a region well-suited to growing cool-climate varieties like Pinot Noir, Chardonnay, Sauvignon Blanc, Syrah, and even Cabernet Franc.

Regional producers have been steadily gaining popularity in recent years for their great iterations of these varieties. Keep an eye out for wines from Calera, Bonny Doon, Blue Canyon, Rhys, Diora, Talbott, and McBride Sisters.

Golden hour in the Golden State.

BELLE GLOS CLARK & TELEPHONE PINOT NOIR

Single vineyard, Santa Maria Valley,
Santa Barbara County
(Joseph. J. Wagner)

Sourced from vines grown in the high-elevation Santa Maria Valley, fruit for this wine underwent extensive cold soaking for maximum colour and flavour extraction. The resulting wine is decadent and plump, with hints of blackberry pie, baked plums, and vanilla bean.

You may be familiar with Monterey County's historic landmarks. The Monterey Bay Aquarium, the cliffs of Big Sur, and the historical village of Carmel-by-the-Sea are staples of California tourism. What you may not be familiar with is the fact that the region has been producing standout wines since the early 1970s, thanks to its unique terroir.

MONTEREY CALIFORNIA

WINE

THE VALLEY FLOOR

WINE

WINE

The valley floor where much of Monterey's grapes are grown is bitterly cold in comparison with the rest of California (i.e., less-than-ideal surfing weather) and very windy, making it one of the few places in California that thin-skinned grape varieties can thrive. These conditions, coupled with low rainfall and the omnipresent California sunshine, lead to one of the longest growing seasons in North America, perfect for crafting cool-climate wines.

Grapes grown in Monterey County are full of personality. Pinot Noir from Monterey is concentrated, herbaceous and earthy, whereas Chardonnay will offer notes of white peach and a razor-fine acidity. These commonalities are a distinct contrast to the bold, boisterous wines the rest of California is famous for producing.

A walk to remember.

HESS SELECT MONTEREY COUNTY
CHARDONNAY 2021

Monterey County

The valleys of Monterey County provide ideal conditions for crafting wines with unctuous texture and tropical fruit flavours. Expect this wine to have notes of pineapple and lemon peel, soft acidity, and a creamy taste.

BLUE CANYON MONTEREY
CABERNET SAUVIGNON 2021

Estate grown, Monterey County

Offering notes of ripe black fruit, mocha and vanilla, this Monterey staple will make a great pairing for pulled-pork sandwiches.

Full-bodied & Smooth

17815 (D) 750 mL $24.95 ✓

DIORA LA SPLENDEUR DU SOLEIL
CHARDONNAY 2020

Sustainable, Monterey County

The golden hills of Monterey and Santa Lucia bathe the grapes for this wine in sunshine, producing a fresh, dense Chardonnay perfect for Cobb salad and seafood.

WOMEN IN WINE

McBride Sisters: Making Monterey magic

Two sisters from two ends of the earth sharing one dream. These are the roots of the largest Black-owned wine company in the United States.

Half-sisters Andréa and Robin grew up on opposite sides of the planet. Andréa was raised in Marlborough, New Zealand, and Robin in Monterey, California; two regions known for producing great wines of similar qualities.

Destiny certainly played its hand for the sisters, who would combine their shared talents and love for wine to start their own wine distribution business in 2005. They based their business in the Central Coast, as the pair were familiar with the Coast's capability to grow the great cool-climate varieties they were both accustomed to, such as Pinot Noir and Sauvignon Blanc.

Andréa and Robin have been heralds for change in the wine industry, with a selfless goal in mind: to bring forth much-needed change to the inequality and lack of representation of women and people of colour in the wine industry, all while keeping sustainable, inclusive practices.

This ideology is reflected in products like the SHE CAN canned wine collection. A portion of sales goes to the SHE CAN Professional Development Fund, which donates to future female entrepreneurs around the world.

The McBride sisters have proudly released the Black Girl Magic line, which is described as "a personal ode to their culture and story ... inspired by the magic and resilience of Black women, to be enjoyed by all."

For the people

From uplifting Mediterranean culture to supporting local growers, Tenute Orestiadi puts its people first.

LCBO SPIRIT OF SUSTAINABILITY

At LCBO, we're focused on building a more sustainable future through an initiative called Spirit of Sustainability. To learn more about SoS and see some of our initiatives, visit LCBO.com/sustainability.

The story of Tenute Orestiadi begins with Ludovico Corrao. He was mayor of Gibellina, Sicily, in 1968 when a powerful earthquake levelled the town. A "visionary," according to Alessandro Costantini, who is Tenute Orestiadi's brand ambassador for Canada, Corrao made it his life's work to reimagine the town as a centre of cultural exchange for the Mediterranean area. He invited Italy's most prominent artists and architects to contribute designs, installations and sculptures that would make the reborn town, named Gibellina Nuova, a living museum.

It was in this context of creativity and possibility that Tenute Orestiadi was founded in 2008, envisioned as a connection between the local wine industry and the artistic movement that Corrao had begun. In partnership with Corrao and his Orestiadi Foundation, they embarked on several social and creative projects to showcase the town and uplift the local economy.

Caring for the people means caring for the land. Tenute Orestiadi's measures to increase energy efficiency and reduce CO<sub>2</sub> emissions include installing solar panels, becoming a RafCycle partner to recycle label liner waste, joining the ETICO project to recycle corks, and sourcing lighter bottles made from 60 to 89% recycled glass.

After Corrao's death at age 84, Tenute Orestiadi committed themselves to keeping his vision alive. "Today, Tenute Orestiadi and Orestiadi Foundation face each other from the top of two hills and they are managed by the same people," Costantini says. They never forget that "behind the winery there are 1,200 family members of grape growers" and that "our responsibility is to improve the quality of life of our people."

TENUTE ORESTIADI IL BIANCO DI LUDOVICO RISERVA 2019

TO BE FRANC...

A natural fit for Ontario's cool climate, Cabernet Franc is also a cool choice for wintry dinners.

Thanks to its herbaceous, savoury character, Cabernet Franc is an incredibly versatile grape able to make delicious single-varietal wines or add a little spice to a red blend. Vintages writer Gabriel Corindia interviewed winemakers from four popular local wineries to find out what makes Ontario such a great place to grow Cabernet Franc and why it's the perfect wine for winter.

LOCAL TALENT

Yvonne Irvine and Rob Power.

"Wine consumers are starting to realize that bigger is not always better. Cabernet Sauvignon can be overly full-bodied, tannic and boozy, while Cabernet Franc has more intrinsic balance," say Creekside winemakers Yvonne Irvine and Rob Power.

When asked why Cabernet Franc is well-suited for Ontario's climate, they add, "Despite all that Mother Nature throws at us, Cabernet Franc seems to acclimatize well to this region. It survives through colder winters and ripens consistently year to year.

"Cabernet Franc is an absolute gem of a wine in the cold, dark days of winter. It pairs so well with heartier dishes like stews, long-simmered soups and sauces, or braised meats. It's also just fine by itself while you sit curled up next to a fire on a stormy night."

It's like a match made in heaven; a grape that thrives in our challenging climate and pairs equally well with it.

"At the turn of the century, when most of Prince Edward County grapes were being planted, Cabernet Franc was a sort of gamble," says Casa-Dea winemaker Calvin Holland. As it turns out, this region is well-suited for its growth.

"We're located near the Hillier community of Prince Edward County. This area of Prince Edward County is a moderately shallow soil on limestone shale. Cabernet Franc grows best in this type of soil and is a vigorous vine that enjoys the excess of minerals limestone provides. I believe that the growth this soil generates is directly correlated to the bold tannins in a Cabernet Franc."

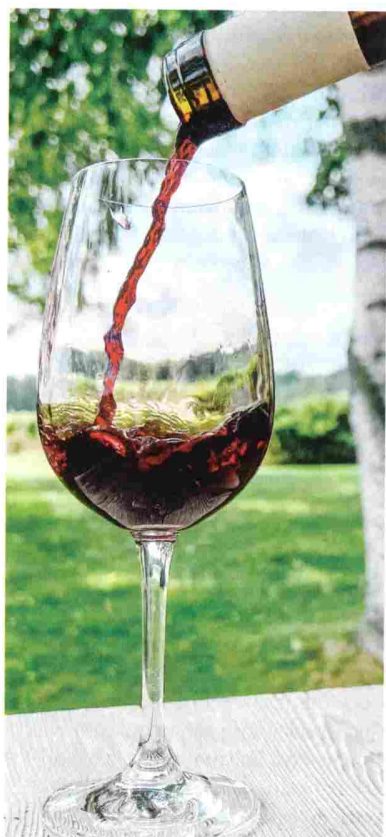

Bold tannins, hefty weight and robust minerality are great for making Cabernet Franc so winter-friendly. As Holland puts it, "It's like bottled warmth. Jammy fruit and baking spices make a good Cabernet Franc an excellent winter standalone wine, as well as a perfect pairing for big hearty dinners."

"Cabernet Franc was kind of the 'little brother' grape. He would hang out with his older brother Cabernet Sauvignon and his friends to get noticed," says Kew Vineyards winemaker Levi de Loryn.

"Now, we're seeing Cabernet Franc in the spotlight. Little Brother's gotten big and strong and has overtaken his brother's spot as the big chief."

"I think finally people are realizing that they've enjoyed Cabernet Franc in blends for years, and with an improvement of quality, they're beginning to understand how Cabernet Franc can make great single-varietal wines," says Thirty Bench winemaker Emma Garner. "There was a time when the Cabernet Franc produced here was weedy, unripe, and lacking colour and structure. Now, the wines are amazing!"

Well-developed fruit leads to a healthy growing season and many possibilities. De Loryn says, "What makes Cab Franc so exquisite in Niagara and beyond is its versatility. We see Cab Franc in blends, as Icewine, in sparkling wine, rosé, we've even seen it made using the appassimento method. It's so flexible, both for winemakers and consumers.

"Cabernet Franc seems to go with so many great parts of Ontarian culture." Couldn't have said it better ourselves.

DOC Bolgheri

NEW

Blackcurrant and blackberry with some crushed stone on the nose. Medium-bodied with firm, chewy tannins that are velvety and plush. This needs time to come together. Try after 2024. Score: 93 (jamesuckling.com, July 4, 2022)

Medium-bodied & Fruity

32691 (XD) 750 mL $38.95

NAT 1917 XAREL-LO 2021

Vegan, DO Penedès
(Dominio Wines)

NEW

Xarel-lo (char-ell-oh) is an uncommon Spanish grape that's better known as a blending wine with other indigenous varieties to produce Cava. In recent years, modern tastes have amplified the desire for new styles of wine and Xarel-lo has delivered, mixing flavours of tree fruit with floral aromas and hints of raw almonds.

Aromatic & Flavourful

33825 (XD) 750 mL $15.95

Organic product

VENETO

CASALFORTE AMARONE DELLA
VALPOLICELLA 2019

Sustainable, DOCG
(Cantine Riondo)

Tarry berries, asphalt and ash with some dark chocolates. Medium to full body on the palate with dried oranges and dark raspberries. Fresh and subtle for an Amarone with well-judged balance and some fine-grained tannins. Sustainable. Drink now or hold. Score: 91 (Zekun Shuai, jamesuckling.com, May 5, 2023)

Full-bodied & Smooth

496414 (XD) 750 mL $43.95

SPAIN – RED WINE

R. LÓPEZ DE HEREDIA
VIÑA TONDONIA RESERVA 2011

DOCa Rioja

Aged for nearly six years in very old barrels, Tondonia is one of Rioja's most proudly traditional wines. Tempranillo dominated, with 20% Garnacha and 5% of both Graciano and Mazuelo, this is complex, mature and well-structured, with plenty of acidity, sinewy tannins, some balsamic sweetness and a taut, focused, age-worthy finish. Drink date: 2023-2035. Score: 95 (timatkin.com, Rioja Special Report 2023)

Medium-bodied & Fruity

19022 (XD) 375 mL $35.95

356337 (XD) 750 mL $70.95
