A Warm Welcome to Argentina Wine Enthusiasts

Wines of Argentina is delighted to welcome you to the Celebrate Argentina Tasting Events.

Founded in 1995 and based in Mendoza, our organization represents wineries that account for over 95% of all wine exports from Argentina. Our goal is to advance the cause of Argentine wines throughout the world, drawing attention to their great variety and quality.

Argentina's history of winemaking dates back to the 16th century, providing us with a tradition of wine consumption lasting over 300 years. However, it is only in the past 20 years that exports have begun to develop, an extraordinary fact given that we are the fifth largest wine-producing country in the world. Today, with an industry producing truly world-class wines, we are one of the fastest-growing countries of origin, showing significant and continuous increases in exports year on year.

There are many factors that contribute to the success of Argentine wines: the vast and varied range of terroirs; excellent climate (including many days of sunshine with little rainfall); pure, clean water from the Andes mountain range; advanced technology; and sophisticated vineyard and winery management. The recent influx of foreign investment is a clear vote of confidence from leading wine-producing countries such as the US, France, Chile, Italy, Spain and Portugal. There has also been significant investment made by the producers themselves: in the vineyards, in the wineries, and in the education of their winemakers.

Bienvenidos!

The fruits and vegetables growing tradition as well as a thorough knowledge of Mendoza's terroir led the Sánchez Linarez Family to enter the vine growing and wine making industry. Pursuing excellence, this family worked extremely hard in the vineyards only to start to produce wines once the grapes had the quality they expected. In 2002, they released to the market wines that reflect the deep character of their hard work, the terroir and modern wine making techniques

We believe that quality of wine starts in our vineyards, which are located at the foothills of Los Andes, in the Maipu and Lujan de Cuyo areas, the oldest and most traditional vine growing regions of Argentina. The land of these vineyards was once used to breed polo horses, for one of the most important sports traditions in Argentina. The grapes from the best areas of Mendoza together with the work of winemakers allow for the production of complex wines with great personality that express the character and greatness of the land.

The Graffigna Winery is a combination of 135 years of toil, passion, culture and development. Since the arrival of an Italian family passionate by the good wine until today, it's the history of an innovative winery always looking for excellence. Graffigna is a wine conceived in the vineyard from its very start, with a special oenologic criterion. It is born surrounded by the particular conditions of the desert of San Juan, with a dry, warm and very sunny weather. Runoff streams originating in the Andes mountains flow through the area and provide ample water for irrigation. Graffigna Centenario: This line is produced with grapes from the Pedernal Valley in the San Juan province, 1,400 meters high, with a temperature range of more than 20° C. It transmits a great varietal expression with well-defined and concentrated colors and bouquets. Graffigna Grand Reserve: This line is produced with the best grapes from specially selected vineyards from the Pedernal Valley. It is well structured and perfectly balanced, with a sensuous and vivacious palate. It spends at least 12 months in oak casks and at least 6 months in bottle. It has an intense and deep color, and a great bouquet with the typical notes of every varietal that makes up this line.

Fincas de la Juanita is a family-owned vineyard and winery located on a 100 years old property in Tres Porteñas, Mendoza, Argentina. The families that have come together for this venture have now been in the grape and wine producing business for more than 20 years, although the property has vines dating back 50 years. We have an extensive area of vine plantations (more than 170 hectares) including a substantial amount of malbec, cabernet sauvignon, syrah and chardonnay grapes (which are the basis of the Juana de Sol wines which we are tasting here) in addition to an important amount of tempranillo, sangiovese, bonarda, viogner and ttorrontés grapes with which we have made exceptional wines and expect to show shortly. We have the ability to produce 100.000 12 bottle cases per year in our "bodega", which has a capacity of 1 million litres.

The Arizus take pride in a tradition that was born more than one hundred years ago; years in which the family worked toward improving their technique and the observation and understanding of nature, thus giving rise to their approach to wine-making. This is also where their commitment to improving vintage after vintage and to better understand those who choose their wines takes root. Luigi Bosca's future is challenging and is always thinking ahead. Its present is focused on the combination of daily work with the creation of new ideas.

Trivento enjoys an international reputation as a leading source of stellar quality wines from Argentina's premier wine region. With vineyards in the Uco Valley, Maipu, Lujan de Cuyo, San Martín and Rivadavia districts, Trivento exemplifies the benefits of high-altitude viticulture, ranging from the icon Malbec, Eolo, to Trivento's award-winning collection of Reserve varietal wines. Winemaking is conducted by Federico Galdeano. Meaning "Three Winds," the Trivento name is a whimsical reference to three winds that sweep through Mendoza and are a distinguishing feature of the region's climate and environment.

The original Finca Flichman winery, dating to 1873, stands at the foot of the Andes and has been lovingly restored and enhanced. Investing in new vineyards that span two distinct regions (Barrancas and Tupungato) and the finest equipment have enabled Finca Flichman to make internationally awarded wines of high quality and personality. Misterio Malbec, for example, was the only Argentinean wine awarded a 'Great Value Award' at the International Wine Challenge 2009. Gestos is a unique wine that was created to express the unique characteristics of two different terroirs in a single grape variety. The Expresiones wines showcase the winemaker's art, crafted from carefully selected parcels of select grape varieties. Dedicado, Finca Flichman's Icon Brand, is produced only in the finest years and matures in new French oak barrels for twelve months before further ageing in the bottle.
